> “In today’s R&B landscape, men rarely make music that yearns anymore.”

Yet in 2026, we’re just as bruised, conflicted, and love-worn as our female counterparts. Heartbreak is universal — duality sits at the core of everyone navigating love and life.

As a songwriter, FREE thrives in that grey area where deflection meets self-reflection. His sound doesn’t chase the glossy nostalgia of old-school love ballads, but instead embraces the cold croon of the early 2010s — a shadowy echo that still resonates.
